

PURPOSE: To give MSMS an Elf on The Shelf during the holiday season.

INTRODUCED BY: Samar Rahimi

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE MISSISSIPPI SCHOOL FOR MATHEMATICS AND SCIENCE

SECTION ONE (DEFINITIONS):

Elf on the Shelf – A small elf toy hidden in various locations every day during the holiday season.

SECTION TWO (REASONING):

The holiday season, though filled with joy and excitement for winter break, is also filled with stress for upcoming exams. Most students at MSMS tend to isolate themselves in their dorms and study for the remainder of the semester. Having an Elf on the Shelf be in different places around Hooper everyday will give students a fun distraction from studying and help boost their morality.

Students can go to Hooper in the mornings and try to find where the Elf on the Shelf is hiding and what it is doing. The activity could bring the community together and bring some more joy during the stressful times.

SECTION THREE (RESPONSES):

I asked three students the following question: “Would having an Elf on the Shelf in Hooper for students to find help relieve some stress during exam season?”

Response 1 (Anonymous):

“I think it’s a cute idea. It would help bring the student body together and enhance the holiday spirit.”

Response 2 (Anonymous):

“I would love an Elf on the Shelf. It would be fun to find around Hooper.”

Response 3 (Anonymous):

“I love that idea. Any fun community building activities encourage positive outlooks on otherwise stressful times!”

SECTION FOUR (PROPOSED CHANGE):

As December rolls around, students will be given the chance to vote on a name for the Elf on the Shelf as well as volunteer to help set up the elf and/or plan the elf’s positions. Two weeks before winter break, the student volunteers will set up the Elf on the Shelf in pre-planned destinations throughout Hooper lobby (or in classrooms of teachers who approved hosting the elf). Students may then attempt to find the elf and see what it is up to. Students will be given strict instructions not to touch or bother the elf to prevent any major distractions in Hooper and to not take away the Elf's magic,

of course.
